

Want to Start Business in Mexico, North America. Here are few Good Profitable Project Ideas for You.

Description:

Mexico, country of southern North America and the third largest country in Latin America, after Brazil and Argentina. Mexico is one of the chief economic and political forces in Latin America. It has a dynamic industrial base, vast mineral resources, a wide-ranging service sector, and the world's largest population of Spanish speakers—about two and a half times that of Spain or Colombia. Mexico is a land of extremes, with high mountains and deep canyons in the center of the country, sweeping deserts in the north, and dense rain forests in the south and east.

Agriculture in Mexico has been an important sector of the country's economy historically and politically even though now it accounts for a very small percentage of Mexico's GDP. Mexico is one of the cradles of human agriculture with the Mesoamericans developing domesticated plants such as maize, beans, tomatoes, squash, avocados, cacao, various kinds of spices, and more.

Mexico's main crops include grains such as corn and wheat, tropical fruits and various vegetables. Agricultural exports are important, especially coffee, tropical fruits and winter fruits and vegetables. Sixty percent of Mexico's agricultural exports go to the United States.

Mexico is another country rich in rock and mineral resources. It is rich in natural resources, like oil, silver, copper, and agricultural products. There is a great Trans-Mexican Volcanic Belt, which crosses the entire country at about the latitude of Mexico City. Volcano activity is responsible for many great rocks. At least sixty minerals were first discovered in Mexico. An estimated 1/3 of all silver that has been recovered from the Earth has come from Mexico.

Mexico is also a large producer of Agates. Though found in several Mexican states, the majority of well-known Mexican Agates come from the state of Chihuahua. Some of the many rocks from Mexico include: Crown of Silver Psilomelane, Crazy Lace Agate, Laguna Agate, Luna Agate, Wave Dolomite, Rainbow Obsidian, Spiderweb Obsidian, Silver Sheen and Gold Sheen Obsidian, Mahogany Obsidian, Selenite, Fire Agate and some of the most valuable Amethyst in the world. Mexico also mines significant quantities of lead and zinc.

The silver mines have their special place in Mexican mining history as well as a major role in the development of the history of the New World.
