The invention of air entraining agents in 1939 has been termed a revolutionary development in concrete technology. The basic function of an air-entraining agent is freeze thaw resistance, which was causing a lot of problems in cold countries. It has been found that there is good increase of construction industry now a days. On the basic it can be predicted that there will be good demand of water proofing compound used in the concrete and mortar admixture. There is good scope for new entrants in this field.
