An air taxi is a small commercial aircraft which makes short flights on demand. The global air taxis market was valued at USD 27.69 billion in 2017 and is expected to reach USD 80.50 billion by 2030, growing at a CAGR of 8.32% from 2017-2030. The market growth is expected to be positively influenced by shorter expected waiting time at the airports and flexibility of the consumers to choose their travel time according to their convenience.

The multicopter segment is expected to acquire a considerable share in the global air taxis market over the forecast period. The demand for the segment is expected to register the highest CAGR in the market over the coming years. The segmental growth is projected to be influenced by the economic benefits offered by it along with its ability to use shorter runways for ultra-short-haul journeys.
