Goats are allied to sheep but are much hardier and more active animals. Their males or billy goats have a tuft of hair (beards) under the chin. The present day goats are said to be discarded from one to more kinds of wild goats of Asia & Europe. People who can not afford to keep cows and buffaloes for milk keep goats. Their maintenance cost are very little. Most Indian prefer goat flesh to other meat, although it is comparatively higher in price. Goats milk is popular with many being highly nourishing. Goat skins are in great demand for leather for gloves & shoes. Goat hair is used for rope making. India has the largest bovine population in the world. The contribution of livestock the economy has been estimated to be Rs. 15,000 Crores of which the share of meat and meat products is 11.5 percent. It has been reckoned that livestock and poultry accounts for 20 percent of the gross national products. There are good scope for Goat and Sheep Farming. Any entrepreneur can come in this line.
