Jewellery making is one of the oldest industries in India. It has been a traditional craft in India, each region in the country specialising in different designs and skills. Jewellery is one trade, which is still placed in the cottage industry category. The chief uses of gold is in jewellery, dental alloys gold coating of base metals and scientific instruments. It is nearly used in the form of alloys not as pure metal, because for most industrial as well as jewellery purposes pure gold is too soft and expensive. India is the world's largest gold jewellery market. About 80% gold is used for jewellery fabrication for domestic demand, 15% for investors demand and barely 5% for industrial use. Any entrepreneur may go into this field, will be successful.
