Jute is a very ancient part of our packaging industry. Some times before the Jute yarn, Jute Sutli units were in danger when some other materials started to take their place in packaging industry. But the era of danger gone as the jute came again among us, with new style of use like fancy bags, printed bags, furnitures, decorative items etc. The new young generation likes the bags & dress materials made up of jute due to the different type of texture and rough & tough appearance of it. So by seeing the demand of jute made materials any one can say that now its an era of jute.
