S. S. Fasteners (Washers 100% EOU)

There are different kinds of fasteners available in the mechanical workshop. Fasteners can be made by batch manual process and also by computerized automatic process. The best quality of fasteners is manufactured by computerized automatic process. As raw material, different grade of steel-based material is available. In India there is abundant availability of raw material and there is no need to import anything as raw material. There is good market demand of the fasteners. The indigenous demand is fulfilled by indigenous production. There is no import of fasteners like washers, nuts and bolts. As a whole, the project is fair and with having a good knowledge of marketing, one can invest in this sector, but with a small risk due to tremendous market competition.
