It increases the friction reduction properties of lubricating oil, engine oil, diesels etc. it is used as antioxidants in silicone oils, extreme pressure lube oils, rust corrosion inhibitors. Demand of reclaimed rubbers arises from a complex situation of rubber market. Reclaimed rubber accounts for about 11 to 12% consumption of the total polymer off take of the industry. There are at present 26 rubber reclaiming units in the country with a total installed capacity of 94,000 tonnes. Considering the consumption and demand of di-aryl-disulphide, it can be predicted that there is good scope for new entrants.
