Pharmaceutical grade sugar can be manufactured by using cane beet or sugar cane itself. This is the more pure form of sugar may not contain sulphur and heavy toxic material like lead arsenic and mercury etc. This is used mainly in preparation of pharmaceutical and food products. There are few companies in organized sector manufacturing pharmaceutical grade sugar. Dhampur is one of the leading manufacturers. There is good domestic as well as export market for the pharma grade sugar. It can be concluded that there is a very good scope for new entrepreneurs if they produce the product with European competitive price.
